we hope you like our presentation!

What is SnapChat?

SnapChat is a messaging social media where you can send selfies and you can text people on it.

Why is it considered social?

It is social because you can see photos of other people on snapchat. You can also write captions. You can also see other people's snaps if you are friends with them on Snapchat.

Who Uses It?

Age: 11-20 (Mostly tweens and teens)

Gender: Males and females, but mostly females.

Country: world-wide!

Why is it useful?

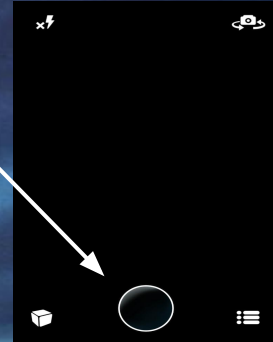

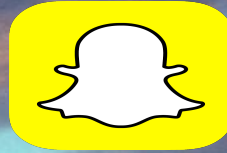

- You can send selfies and you can also make funny selfies with lots of emojis.
- You can also text your friends with selfies.
- You can also make you parents join and you can stay in touch that way.

How does it work?

Darjine and Malia will demonstrate.

1. Click on snapchat app icon.
2. Click the circle button to take a photo.
3. Add captions or filters if you want.
4. *Hit the send button and choose the people you want to send it to.

*After a certain number of seconds, the picture is gone.

How can people use it to bully people?

Someone can screenshot a picture and send it to anybody they want and people can make fun of your selfie.

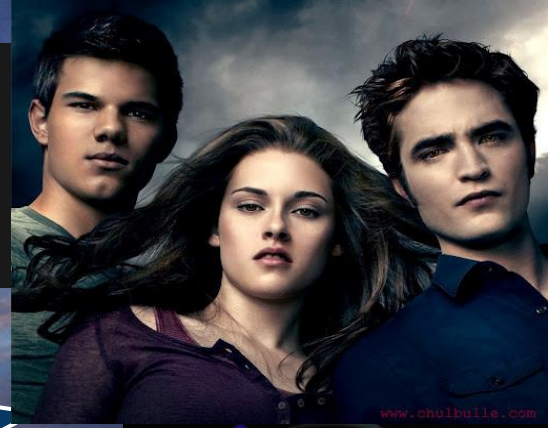

It can also be used to bully people if you send it to the wrong person. Then they can screenshot it or send it to someone else.
